Beyond the Exam Room: Helping Patients Better Manage their own Care

Much of what affects the health and healthcare of Anderson Free Clinic patients happens outside the clinic. Because of that, Anderson Free Clinic now has a new Care Coordinator, a staff RN who is working with our most vulnerable patients to improve their health outcomes by looking at factors beyond the clinical setting. Those might include education, income, housing, smoking, jobs, transportation, and healthcare literacy.

The Care Coordinator works with patients to address these complex health and social issues by offering ongoing support. AFC patients identified as having missed multiple appointments, non-compliant with their health plan, and using the emergency department frequently for primary care services are selected and invited to participate.

Care Coordination helps patients manage the medical, dental, and pharmacy services already offered to them at the Free Clinic. In addition, health education, self-care skills training, counseling, and medication management tools are provided to patients and family members in need of additional resources as well as facilitating access to other existing community resources here in Anderson for the purpose of improving quality of life and reducing additional external stressors.

Using a care guide created together with the patient, the Care Coordinator monitors the patient's progress regularly through phone calls, texting, clinic visits, and support which helps guide their self-care practices.

The success of the program will be measured by a decrease in unnecessary visits by program participants to the ER, self-management of conditions like diabetes improving, and patients keeping appointments at the Free Clinic. Care coordination offers continuity and an ongoing relationship with chronically-ill adults while offering encouragement and education to empower the patient for long term control of their health.

The new Care Coordination program is made possible by a one year grant from the CVS Health Foundation, in partnership with the National Association of Free & Charitable Clinics.

Bobbie Oglesby Named 2015 United Way Volunteer of the Year

Mrs. Bobbie Oglesby has volunteered at the Free Clinic ever since its beginnings in 1984. She immediately took on the responsibility of transcription for a growing clinic. Over time, her hard work, virtues and values as well as her expectations of other volunteers and staff have led people to connect to her and very naturally filled the role of a mentor to both staff and volunteers.

In every role she has ever assumed at the Free Clinic, one thing has been a CONSTANT: giving words of praise, encouragement and confidence and speaking candidly about her concerns over the challenges the Clinic has encountered.

Dr. Harry Morse, who has also volunteered at the clinic for 30 years as a physician and Board Member called her one of those "inspirational citizen volunteers in our community who allows the Free Clinic to continue to thrive and flourish all these years." He added that he would be "forever indebted to her."

Maureen Sartini, Director of the Free Clinic for 25 years, called Mrs. Bobbie her "mentor, her experienced and trusted advisor" while Dr. Nate Bradford described her as "frank, thoughtful and self-effacing." For Barb Baptista, current Director, Mrs. Bobbie is "an incredible person" who has been "guiding her along the way."

Free Clinic Volunteer Physician
Dr. Donna Millar-Potts
Recognized by AnMed Health
as the Virginia Gilmer
Extraordinary Woman in Healthcare Community Service

As physician in the Infectious Disease Department of AnMed Health, Dr. Millar-Potts serves as primary care provider for patients seen at the HIV clinic held by AnMed Health at the Free Clinic. She also volunteers at least twice each month seeing Free Clinic patients. She has served the Free Clinic both as a Board member and Medical Director.

Her compassion extends beyond AnMed Health and the Free Clinic, and she has dedicated her life to taking care of the poor and underprivileged in Anderson, Greenville and Oconee counties.

When asked, she will say her proudest professional accomplishment was establishing a clinic in Slater-Marietta in 1995, serving the North Saluda River area, ranked then #1 in SC for shortage of health professionals.

Supporting the Anderson Free Clinic since 1989

- and 5k Run with the Nurses -

Because of the generous and caring community support of the mission of the Free Clinic, Walk with the Docs in Anderson and Honea Path raised almost $92,000, making 2015 one of the best Walks in years.

Despite the Affordable Care Act implementation, the demand for medical care, dental care, and assistance in obtaining medication on the part of many of our Anderson County citizens has remained steady. Many grants only fund new programs and seldom provide operating dollars. The Free Clinic continues to rely primarily on donations by individuals, churches, and businesses in our community to operate.

As you can see, you are making a difference in the lives of Anderson Free Clinic's patients and those who would like to become patients. Thank you for your much needed support of the Free Clinic!

Dancing for Anderson Free Clinic

Dedicated supporters Renee King and Dr. Art Bruce danced on behalf of the Free Clinic at the 2015 Dancing for our Heroes. They showed true concern for the less fortunate in our community as they practiced for seven months and then danced in front of over 500 people who attended Dancing for Our Heroes.

Advocacy and compassion for the Free Clinic's mission were also demonstrated by Renee and Dr. Art Bruce with their efforts approaching friends, family and colleagues for donations. Over 130 people showed their support and helped raise almost $13,000. Renee works as an RN at AnMed Health Women's and Children's Hospital and Dr. Bruce works at his practice Arthur L. Bruce, DMD & Associates in Pendleton.
